

Over Half of Americans Gave the Gift of Music in Past Year, Says LOOP Study

Music remains one of the most popular gifts in the United States, with more than half of Americans saying they purchased a music product as a gift over the previous year, according to research conducted by LOOP.